

Parents great!!!

Parents, you know are the real gift of god,
Shine forever with brightness more, their words, the real light in life,

Their love, the great courage in life.
They make us follow the path right,

Each day make our bright,
Turn each hard moment too light See us always in the height.

My parents, I don't know, how to say
They are my god, more than my life

Giving me courage they are my strength they are the shoulder to lean on.
