

Spread Love

I've learned that no matter what happens or how bad it seems today. Life goes on and we can only hope it will be better tomorrow. We all have problems in our life and seeing it with an optimistic way, problems is the thing that makes us stronger and you should not be sad at it, rather we should fight with it in every way we could. There will be rainy days and storms. But there will be rainbow after the black clouds go and sunlight will come. We just have to calm down for a little while. Life gives everyone a second chance and that is tomorrow. Steve jobs once said, "I live everyday like it is my last and so one day I will probably be right". You never know what is going happen next, you can't escape death and it doesn't mean you have to fear it. All you have to do daily is do things that make you happy. The most precious thing you can do to make yourself happy is by giving a stranger a compliment or helping someone and being the reason of their smile and expects nothing in return. Learn from everybody and touch their hearts with your actions. People will forget your face, your beauty and everything about you but they will never forget what you did for them.

BE HAPPY
